

Dementia: Understanding the Journey

Facilitator Orientation

The Dementia: Understanding the Journey course provides a range of information learners should use to support and enhance their approach to care. Each of the sessions leads into the next, supporting the care practices collaboratively and collectively. As the course progresses, tools and approaches are offered to assist learners in recognizing when to change their own perceptions and approach.

How do you become a facilitator for Dementia: Understanding the Journey?

You are a current facilitator of the 6th Edition (ADODCC) ?

All current facilitators are required to participate in a facilitator orientation before delivering the new edition.

You are not a current facilitator?

If you are interested in becoming a Dementia: Understanding the Journey facilitator the requirements include:

- The successful completion of the Alzheimer's Disease and Other Dementias Care Course or Dementia: Understanding the Journey
- Experience in the field of dementia
- Experience in delivering adult education
- The completion of facilitator's orientation

Please forward an overview and/or resume outlining how you meet these requirements along with this registration form.
